PPWFC offers Employee Development Funding to businesses & nonprofits in El Paso & Teller counties

With retention and recruitment an ongoing challenge, the Workforce Center brings good news: $100,000 in funding for companies to train/upskill their current staff.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 12, 2023 – The Pikes Peak Workforce Center has $100,000 in Employee Development Funds to award to companies who want to train or upskill their current employees.

Made possible by the federal Workforce Innovation & Opportunity Act (WIOA), the funds must be used to provide training to employees to retain a skilled workforce or avert the need for layoffs.

Preference is given to in-demand industries, such as, manufacturing, health care, information technology, hospitality and tourism, cyber security – and to companies whose training leads to expansion of duties for employees.

Options for training include a variety of work-based, virtual or classroom training for current staff that will increase the competitiveness of both employees and the business. Employers will choose the training that best meets the needs of their company and their employees.

Past examples of training include (not limited to these):

- AC/DC electricity
- Advanced hydraulic
- Advanced programmable logic controllers (PLCs)
- CNA training course
- Customized ISO
- DF01: Mongo DB Developer
- Electrical schematics
- Executive Leadership Training
- Lean manufacturing
“This presents fantastic opportunities for companies in both El Paso and Teller counties,” said Pikes Peak Workforce Center Communications Manager Becca Tonn. “We certainly hope a variety of businesses and nonprofits will apply for this funding — to improve their economic viability by training or upskilling their employees.”
